CONSTANTINOPLE, July 3.

WE have received very melancholy advices from Syria. Aly Bey has publiſhed a Manifeſto there, in which he ſtiles himſelf the Soldan of Egypt, ſucceſſor of the Pharaohs, and Deliverer of the promiſed land, and likewiſe of Mecca, which is the Holy Land of the Muſſulmen. The Baſhaws of Damaſcus, Tripoli, Aleppo, Kilis, and the Seraſkier d'Urſa, aſſembled their forces to oppoſe that Uſurper, who after an obſtinate and bloody engagement, gained a complete victory over them the beginning of laſt month, and entered the 6th ult. in triumph into Damaſcus, the inhabitants of which ſhut their gates againſt part of the conquered army which would have taken refuge in that city, where there was a revolt, which coſt the lives of 5000 perſons, the houſes were plundered, and the very Moſques prophaned. Though the Baſhaw of Aleppo is got back to his reſidence, it is apprehended that city will ſhare the ſame fate as Damaſcus, and fall into the hands of Ali Bey, whoſe army conſiſts of 60,000 men, and is beſides well provided with artillery and every thing neceſſary to carry on a war with vigour.

Liſbon, July 9. They write from Rome, that the Sieur d'Almada, miniſter from this court, having produced an Order from his moſt Faithful Majeſty, by which he declared that though he had ſufficient proofs againſt the Chevalier Verney, ſecretary to the embaſſy of Portugal, to cauſe him to be beheaded, his majeſty, out of his royal clemency, was ſatisfied with removing him from his poſt, and baniſhing him from his dominions, as well as from the palaces of his miniſters reſiding at foreign courts. Accordingly he immediately quitted the palace of his excellency Mr. d'Almada, but was arreſted by order of the Pope, and baniſhed likewiſe out of the Eccleſiaſtick States. He was aſked where he would retire to, and deſiring to go into Tuſcany, the officers conducted him thither. It is the general opinion that Mr. Verney has been detected in keeping a correſpondence with the Jeſuits.

Peterſburgh, July 19. Major General Tſcherbatof came before Arabat the 28th of June. The following night the ſaid town was ſtormed, and plundered before day-break. Our light-troops likewiſe routed 1200 men, moſt part Tartars, who were come from Caffa, and lay behind a Retrenchment. In the fortreſs were found 300 dead bodies, among which was the commandant, an Aga of the Janiſſaries; and 400 Turks were killed in their flight. Our whole loſs conſiſts only of 12 killed and 43 wounded. We took 50 pieces of cannon, a large quantity of proviſion, and all the baggage of the Tartars who were behind the Retrenchment, with ſix pair of colours. We took 20 Turks priſoners at Kuſtof, and three pieces of cannon; that town was in a ſhocking condition, the Tartars having plundered it three days before our troops came there.

Dantzick, July 27. The line of Pruſſian troops has demanded and in part raiſed, for the third time, a contribution from the territories of this city, which has reduced many of the country people to great miſery. They write from Thorn, that it had been ſignified on the part of the King of Pruſſia to the magiſtrates of that place, to order the Burghers of Thorn to ſend to Koningſberg the corn they uſed to ſend to Dantzick; but that as they did not comply with this demand, his Pruſſian Majeſty had ſent them ſuch menaces, that the inhabitants of Thorn were under great uneaſineſs. There appears to be more diſcontent in Poland than ever, for moſt of the grandees are retiring into other countries. Among others, the Prince Primate has hired an Hotel at Elbing.

LONDON, Auguſt 17.

Tranſlation of a Letter from Leghorn, dated July the 19th, to an Italian Merchant in London.

"Yeſterday landed here, from three Sardinian Felucca's, a deputation from the free Corſicans, of ſeven perſons, with their attendants and baggage, who ſet out at ſun-riſe this morning for Florence, and are immediately to proceed for Vienna, with propoſals to the Emperor to guaranty their treaty with the Grand Duke, whom they are ready immediately to declare King, and hereditary ſovereign of all Corſica, with an annual tribute of eight hundred thouſand ſequins, to be levied and collected in whatever manner the General Aſſembly of the deputies of the different Pieves ſhall think proper. The Corſicans engage to ſupport a conſtant body of regular troops, of ſix thouſand men, to be annually recruited from their militia, which is to conſiſt of the male inhabitants of the whole Kingdom from the age of twenty to forty years, to be ſupplied with arms and ammunition at the expence of each Pieve;—that their ſovereign the Grand Duke ſhall maintain, in Corſica, nine battalions of infantry, three troops of huſſars, a corps of artillery of 360 men, with three trains of light artillery;—and that this military force ſhall be landed in Corſica within four months after ſigning the treaty, which is acceded to even by all the Corſicans, now expoſed to the barbarity of the French troops, of whom they are poſitive they have deſtroyed ſeven thouſand within the laſt nine months. Many they have deſtroyed by poiſoning the wells and rivulets that ſupply their garriſons; their markſmen conſtantly kill the French officers; their horſes are always hamſtrung during the night, when they are at graſs; the hay ground is regularly burnt up by their countrymen; their bridges of communication are no ſooner finiſhed than blown up; their new roads are immediately rendered impaſſable by a ſmall kind of mine, called a Fougaſſe, in which work the Corſican peaſants are very expert; for twenty of them can, in one night, deſtroy what has employed a French battalion ſix weeks with infinite labour. They now declare, from the late examples of French courage, in their glorious victory over the French army, they have not the leaſt dread of a hundred French battalions.—Nothing but the ſavage barbarity of the French in ſtabbing the Corſican children, raviſhing and then hanging their women, putting their countrymen firſt to the torture, and butchering them upon the rack—Marks of inhumanity unknown and unexperienced in any age—are, they truſt, a ſufficient apology with mankind for uſing ſome retaliation upon the unprovoked butchers of their infants, their parents, their wives, and themſelves.

Sept. 7. Among the many inſtances of female frailty, which furniſhes the converſation of the day, we are happy in relating a recent inſtance of female virtue. A gentleman, who has made no ſmall figure in the beau monde, was ſome time ſince married to a moſt agreeable woman: ſoon after his marriage he lived in the moſt expenſive manner, and laviſhed vaſt ſums at New Market. He had not been long married before he grew neglectful of his Lady, frequently left gentlemen at home for her to entertain, and obliged her to accompany them to public places: The conſequence was, ſeveral of them uſed ſuch freedoms with her, as were by no means conſiſtent with either her delicacy or virtue. She, however, concealed the affronts ſhe received, leſt ſhe ſhould endanger the life of her huſband, till a certain Nobleman, who is a married man, made her ſuch propoſals as ſhocked her, at the ſame time informing her, they were with her huſband's approbation. She ſhew to her huſband, who told her ſhe would be wiſe to comply with his Lordſhip's offer, as thereby ſhe would ſecure a fine ſettlement to herſelf and a good appointment for him; as he was ſorry to inform her, he was not worth one guinea, and expected an execution in the houſe every moment. On receiving this infamous advice, ſhe turned from him with indignation, and returned to his Lordſhip, who told her he had already made him a preſent of 300l. and had gone too far to recede. She then told his Lordſhip, that ſince it was her huſband's deſire, ſhe begged his Lordſhip to get the ſettlement made out and bring it to her in order that ſhe might conſult her attorney. His Lordſhip in raptures obeyed her commands; but no ſooner had ſhe the parchments in her poſſeſſion, than ſhe went to his Lordſhip's family, and delivered them up. They were charmed with her virtue, and with the revenge ſhe had taken of two perfidious men, and voluntarily between them made a ſettlement of 200l. per ann. on her for life, on which ſhe now ſubſiſts in Italy.

Extract of a Letter from Plymouth, Aug. 11.

"Yeſterday came on the election for a member to ſerve in parliament for this Borough, when Sir Charles Hardy was choſen without oppoſition."

A Lieutenant in one of the reduced regiments, who married an old widow lady at Hammerſmith a few years ſince, whom he left after ſpending her fortune and uſing her extremely ill, went, in the year 1768 as an adventurer to the Eaſt Indies. On his arrival there he entered himſelf a volunteer in Heyder Ally's army, where he ſoon got preferment; but not content with the regular gradation, he applied for the rank of lieutenant-colonel before he had been many months in commiſſion as a captain, which being refuſed him, he ſuddenly took a French leave, determining to try his fortune in the company's ſervice. A few days after he had quitted the camp, Heyder Ally, having received private intimation of his deſign, diſpatched a courier after him, with a pretended carte-blanche if he would return into his ſervice (at the ſame time paying him the higheſt compliments on his military ſkill, and of the loſs he ſhould ſuſtain in ſo able an officer) upon which the deſerter, who was many years one of the black-legged gentry here, and ought to have underſtood trap better, ſwallowed the bait, and returned to the head-quarters, where, on his arrival, the Nabob ordered him to be inſtantly hanged, which was accordingly executed.

Cheſter, Sept. 7. The following is an account of John Chapman, who was executed here for picking the pocket of Martha Hewitt, of this county,—At the hour appointed he was conducted to the place of execution by the uſual attendants on ſuch occaſions, and a greater number of conſtables than uſually attend executions here, as there was ſome ſuſpicion of a reſcue by the vaſt concourſe of ſailors (he being one of that profeſſion) that accompanied him.—On his ſetting out, a book was put in his hand for decency's ſake by the hangman, which he no ſooner received than he threw among his brother ſhip-mates, as he termed them, and they immediately tore it in pieces; a clergyman then got into the cart, and exhorted him to behave with more decency, and to think of his ſudden change; but inſtead of attending to his admonitions, he got up in the cart, and (being pinioned) drove his head in the clergyman's belly, and tumbled him out of the cart, after this he flung himſelf out and attempted to run into the midſt of the ſailors, but was prevented by the irons with which he was loaded: He was then ſeized and tied by ropes in the cart, and in that manner was carried to the fatal tree; at his arrival there he refuſed either to hear prayers, or pray himſelf, therefore two men, together with the hangman attempted to lift him up, to fix the rope about his neck, in the doing of which, he by some means, got the hangman's thumb in his mouth, which he almost separated from the hand, before he would loose his hold; he was at last tied up, but with great difficulty; and it was remarked that he died very hard. He was a handsome young man, and seemed to be about 23 years of age, but refused to tell any thing of his past life and villainies. There was one George Macartney concerned with him in this robbery, who got off for transportation."

WARSAW, September 4.

SOME letters received from the Danube inform us of the capture of Oczaknow by the Russians, but advices of such importance should come better confirmed, before we can give absolute credit to them.

LONDON,

Sept. 9. We are told from authority, that six regiments of foot on the Irish establishment are shortly to be draughted off for America.

By letters from the West-India Islands, by some ships arrived in the Downs, there is an account that they have had some very fine rains, and that there is the greatest prospect of a fine crop of sugar that has been known for many years.

On Saturday evening some villains attempting to break into the house of Mr. Jackson, at Ridge in Hertfordshire, alarmed a neighbour's dog at the adjoining house, who leaping over the pales, attacked and tore one of them almost to pieces: his dead body was found in the garden next morning.

By a letter from Dover, dated Sept. the 8th, there is advice that the Quebec, Brush, from Quebec; the Agnes, Dickie, from Labrador, in 35 days, are arrived there.

Sept. 10. From the best Authority the Printer received the following account, dated Venice the 24th of August, 1771:——They write from Corfu, that a Turkish fleet, consisting of fifty-six sail, came out of the Dardanelles, by Order of the Grand Seignior, and that rear-admiral Arf, who cruised with his squadron thereabouts, having met them, affected to shun them till he had drawn them out upon the high sea: then facing about, he attacked them with such impetuosity, that the astonished Turks betook themselves to flight, and saved themselves in the harbour of Mondro at Lemnos, where they erected batteries on shore, in order to defend the entrance of the Port. Rear admiral Arf, who was not strong enough to force the entrance, blocked up the mouth of it, in order to hinder the Turks from escaping, while he sent for succours; and admiral Spiridoff, upon the first notice, flew immediately to join him; they then set ashore 1500 Albanians, who with surprising Bravery took the Turkish Batteries, so that our ships entered the harbour without any resistance, and burned the whole Turkish fleet, except only four Caravellas, which have been saved, and fell into the hands of the Victors. This Affair happened on the 5th of July last.

Sept. 21. Yesterday his Majesty came from Richmond to St. James's, where there was a levee; after which Lords North and Suffolk had a long conference with his Majesty, who afterwards returned to Richmond.

A Board of Admiralty was held yesterday, at the breaking up of which expresses were sent to the Commissioners of the several dock yards of Portsmouth, Plymouth, Chatham, and Sheerness.

Yesterday evening Lords North and Suffolk set out of town for their respective country seats.

The Earl of Hertford, Lord Chamberlain, set out of town yesterday for his seat at Sunborn, in Suffolk.

The King of Spain has of late, through his Ambassador at this Court, we are assured, been very profuse in his professions to our Court of his sincere intention of promoting tranquility and good understanding between the two crowns. This so pleased his M——y that he desired his consent to make Prince Mazarino's lady a present of some curious birds, which was done. But for all this courteous behaviour, his Catholic Majesty's sole intention is to allure our Ministry, by these kinds of bait, 'till opportunity enables him to throw off his mask with security.

It is again strongly reported that a change in the law department will take place before the first of Michaelmas term next.

We are informed that the present Lord Mayor's friends have canvassed for him the wards of Farringdon and Cheap, without receiving a single denial; and that the like success has attended the Shelburnite candidates in Billingsgate ward.

KINGSTON, (Jamaica) September 7

On tuesday morning last about 40 minutes past seven o'clock, a most violent shock of an earthquake was felt in this town, and parts adjacent, nay, it was so great, that it is supposed the whole island felt it; many chimneys were thrown down; the walls of several houses have received great rents; the barracks in this town are much damaged; many places in St. David's have likewise felt the effects of its force, and it is the opinion of most people, that had it continued a little longer, this town must have been laid in ruins; it is believed that this was the severest earthquake that has happened in this island since the year 1692. The consternation of the people was so great, that many attempted to jump out of their balconies, &c. The same day about nine o'clock, a small shock happened, the next morning two more, one about nine o'clock, and the other about ten, also several others since, but no damage done by these.

Sept. 14. On sunday last a small sloop arrived from Carthagena, by whom we have the melancholy news of the loss of the sloop Charming Sally, Captain Scott, from this island, on that coast, and the cruel murder of the captain and his whole crew, except two Curacoa mulatto men, supposed to be committed by a mulatto, trading on the Spanish coast, a native of this island, who being tempted by the success captain Scott had met on this voyage, and his having on board a considerable sum of money killed the captain himself, and with the assistance of the people he had with him, destroyed the crew: On their accomplishing so far of their horrid design, they took the money out of the vessel, cut her adrift, and let her drive against the rocks, by which means she was soon destroyed.

CHARLES-TOWN, (So. Carolina,) October 17.

On Friday last the schooner Ann, Capt. Stoddart, of and for New-York, from the Musquito-Shore, put in here in distress.

The brigantine Lively, Capt. Coiting, with a cargo of slaves, from Gambia for this port, was spoke with two days ago on this coast, having lost her mainmast, in a hurricane which she met with on the 20th ult. in the lat. of Barbados, and long. 67, and in great want of provisions.

Oct. 24. As the residence his Excellency the Governor at Fort Johnson (whither his Lordship and family went a fortnight ago) will be for some weeks, till a proper house can be got for him in town; his Excellency has given directions, that all masters of vessels arriving in this port, do wait upon him there with their papers, when the boats go ashore for signals to pass; and the pilots have instructions to acquaint all such masters therewith.

We are informed, that Sir George Rodney, who commands his Majesty's squadron stationed at Jamaica, &c. having lately sent two ships to Carthagena, to demand the release of some hundreds of British subjects; who have most disgracefully been suffered to remain imprisoned there, and at other places, some of them a number of years, and not only compelled to work on the fortifications, but also otherwise treated as slaves; and the Spanish Government having refused to deliver them up; he was preparing to go with his whole fleet to make a demand of them—[having no private trade to carry on with the Spaniards, to which he fears such a conduct will give interruption.]

The tax bill has passed the commons house of assembly, and now lies before his Majesty's hon. council.

Capt. Hensley, in the brigantine little John, who arrived here yesterday from Boston, brought in with him Thomas Townsend master, the mate, and one mariner, late of the schooner Seaflower, of and from Virginia for Antigua, which, on the 8th of the last month lat. 29, long. 74, met with a very hard gale of wind that obliged them to cut away their main-mast, and carried away their jib, boat, and all the lumber from off the deck. On the 20th, in lat. 25, long. 70 d. 30 m. they met with another hard gale from E. N. E. to S. before which they scudded from six o'clock in the morning till twelve at night, when they shipped a sea which carried away several of the top timbers by the whale and filled the schooner immediately; upon which they hove to, with the broken side to windward, and about 11 o'clock in the morning of the 21st the vessel went to pieces. The people, five in number, stuck to the main-deck, which soon parted in several pieces, by which two of the marniers were drowned the rest kept to a small piece of the deck till next evening at five o'clock, when they were taken up by a French West India man, bound to Bourdeaux, and on the 5th instant were put on board Capt. Hensley's vessel which in lat. 37 d 57 m. long 66 d. 36 m. had both her masts carried away, in a violent gale of wind, September 24th.

October 31 At the court of general Sessions &c. began to be holden here on Monday the twenty-first instant, of forty-four bills of indictment that were given out to the grand Jury, Thirty-one were, by them, returned true bills. And the following Persons were convicted, viz.

John Irvin, of the murder of his Wife; John Williams, Theophilus Williams, for Arson, or house-burning; John Jenkins, of burglary, Benjamin West, of stealing a Negro; Stephen Dykes, manslaughter; Frederick Harper, of Horse-stealing; Margaret Ryley, Dempsey Griffith, of larceny; John Robinson, of petit-larceny; Ann Howard, of receiving stolen goods;—The trial of Dr. John Haly also came on at this Sessions., who was arraigned for murder, for the Death of————Esq; in a duel. This trial began at Eight o'clock on Saturday morning, before the most crowded audience that ever was assembled there upon any occasion, and was not over till after seven in the evening, when the Jury, after having been out only a few minutes, convinced (we may presume) that there was not the least degree of malice on his part, brought in their verdict, guilty of manslaughter. The counsel for the prisoner were, James Parsons, Charles-Cotesworth Pinckney, Thomas Hayward and Alexander Harvey, Esquires, the three last natives of this province, and lately from the temple, who acquired no small degree of applause by their pleading upon this occasion.

Nov. 7. At the adjournment of the court of general Sessions on Monday last, John Jenkins, and Benjamin West, received sentences of death, to be hanged on Friday the 21st Instant; Stephen Dyke was burnt in the hand with the letter M; Dr. John Haly pleaded his Majesty's pardon, and was discharged; Margaret Ryley was branded in the cheek with a T; Dempsey Griffith was branded in like manner, and sentenced to suffer three months imprisonment, unless he can give security for his good behaviour for twelve-months and a day; Frederick Harper, John Robinson and Ann Howard, had sentence passed upon them at the same time, viz. Harper to lose his right ear, and receive thirty nine lashes on the bare back; Robinson to receive the same number of lashes at the usual corners; and Ann Howard to receive five lashes on the bare back, and stand in the pillory an hour, from eleven to twelve o'Clock; all on Tuesday the 3d of December next.

Last Tuesday afternoon, the joint-public treasurers of this province, not thinking themselves warranted to comply with an order of the commons house of Assembly alone, to advance the sum of three hundred pounds currency, to the committee on the silk manufacture, it was adjudged a contempt, and they were, by order of that house, committed to the common gaol in this town; but very soon after again set at liberty, in consequence of the following proclamation.*

By his Excellency the right honourable lord Charles Greville Montagu, Captain General and Governor in Chief, in and over the said Province.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS it appears to me that it is necessary, for his Majesty's service, that the present general assembly of this province should be immediately dissolved: I have therefore thought fit to issue this my proclamation, dissolving the same. And I do hereby dissolve the general assembly of this province accordingly.

GIVEN under my hand and the great seal of the said province at Charles-town, this fifth day of November, in the twelfth year of his Majesty's reign, and in the year of our lord, one thousand, seven hundred and seventy-one

By his Excellency's command, C. G. MONTAGU.
Thomas Skottowe, Sec.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

It is thought that most of the members of the house of assembly will be re-elected, those for Charles-Town in particular, it being said, that they have declared their willingness to serve again.

There was but one dissenting voice to the resolution on Tuesday last, for the commitment of the joint public-treasurers.

* See his Majesty's additional instruction to the governor of this province, dated the 15th of April, 1770, and inserted in this gazette of the 13th of September following No. 1813.

The Packet that sailed from hence the 8th of August last, is arrived in England.

His Excellency our Governor was pleased to pardon William Davidson, who was to have been executed the 15th Instant, agreeable to the sentence he received the last Supreme Court, on Condition that he should leave the Province in 24 Hours.

The same Day Capt. Anderson sailed for South Carolina, with whom went Passengers Major Butler, Captain Molesworth and Lady, and Lieut. Rickets.

Last Monday Evening a melancholy Affair happened at the house of John Douglass Barber, at Beekman's Slip. Douglass and his Wife about 9 o'clock, went to take a Walk, and asked Elizabeth Ferguson, who was in the House, to go with them, but she refused, saying, she would lie down; they then locked the Door, and went out, and returned about 10 o'clock, when they found her dead, with her head on the Floor and her Feet on the Bed. The Doctors opened her, and found an Inflammation in her Bowels. The Verdict of the Coroner's Inquest was, that she died with Excess of Drinking and an Inflammation in her Bowels.

Last Friday Evening some Negroes, who were left on board Captain Moore's Ship, to take care of her, being in a Frolick, some Sailors came down, and a Quarrel ensued, when one of the Negroes struck a Tailor on the head several Blows with a Stave, which fractured his Skull in such a manner, that it was thought he would have expired immediately, but is now in a fair way of Recovery. The Negro is in Custody.

Prince Dalgorucki has taken Balvelawa, where he found a great quantity of ship timber, &c. a fine copious port—that the Ruſſian fleet from Aſoph is at Caffa, and Conſtantinople in a great terror.—The revival of an office of Secretary of State for Scotland talked of.—Advices of the 3d of Aug. from Conſtantinople mention, that being in great conſternation, the Imperial and Pruſſian Miniſters adviſed an immediate acceptance of the terms offered by Ruſſia, which advice would probably be followed by the Port, which had iſſued ſeveral millions from the Treaſury, &c.——All the regiments in England and Ireland order'd to be completed—Another letter to Lord —— from Jonathan Britain, who aſſerts that he was concern'd in the fire at Portſmouth, but denies he demanded any reward, except the pardon of himſelf, for a diſcovery——He urges being brought to trial, but ſays the Miniſtry dare not do it, being afraid of the diſcoveries he can make. Several writers obſerve—that no precautions have been taken to ſecure any ſuſpected perſons, of which there were ſeveral who had abſconded—and that what Dudley had diſcovered, and where he is convey'd to, are ſecrets to the public.—That Ed. Manwaring who was proſecuted at Boſton on a charge of firing at the populace on the memorable 5th of March, was about to commence actions againſt the people concern'd in his proſecution.

Sept. 20. The States General have order'd all their barrier towns to be garriſon'd and put in a poſture of defence.—Reported that the wholeforce of Spain will ſhortly be exerted againſt the Ruſſians, and if ſo, that England will be engaged in the quarrel—30 ſhips of the line ſaid to be at Cadiz, and that 16 are completely manned and fitted for the ſea.——Letters from Venice ſay, the Ruſſians have not been ſo proſperous as repreſented, and that they have not been able to force the paſſage of the Dardanelles, &c.

The Nancy, Graham, from Maryland, is arrived in the Downs, and the Briton, Harriſon, from Quebec, at Graveſend.——Time and room will admit no more.

With Capt. Miller, came the following Paſſengers, Mr. Cherleſs Martin and Lady; Miſs Deviſme; Miſs Cheboy; Miſs Victore; Major Fuſer; Mr. Leeunadeer; Mr. St. Ours; Mr. Robeſe; Mr. and Mrs. Hetton.

While this grand Maxim I advance,
That all the World is but a Dance.
That human Kind, both Man and Woman,
Do dance, is evident and common:
David himself, that God-like King,
We know, could Dance as well as Sing:
Folks who at Court would keep their Ground,
Muſt dance Attendance the Year round;
Whole Nations dance: Gay friſking France,
Has led Great-Britain many a Dance;
And ſome ſtill think that France and Spain,
Intend to make us dance again.
All Nature is one Ball we find.
The Water dances to the Wind;
The Sea itſelf at Night and Noon,

PROPOSALS

FOR ESTABLISHING

A Land-Office in the City of Albany.

WHEREAS many gentlemen reſiding at New-York, and elſewhere, are poſſeſſors of conſiderable tracts of land in the county of Albany, which probably they may be inclined to ſell or let; and whereas perſons intending to purchaſe or become tenants, are frequently at a loſs to diſcover the proprietors of ſuch tracts which they would chooſe to ſettle upon; and often after having obtained all neceſſary information, they find it very inconvenient and expenſive to make a perſonal application: The ſubſcribers therefore propoſe to open a LAND-OFFICE in the city of Albany, on the following plan, which if properly encouraged, will be of general utility to the public, and produce an emolument to the undertakers adequate to their aſſiduity.

CONDITIONS.

I. That every proprietor of lands in the county of Albany, who may have occaſion to employ them, will be pleaſed to furniſh a map of the lands, and inſtructions containing the conditions of ſale, or terms on which they will leaſe.

II. In caſe of ſales, they will negotiate the whole at the rate of one per cent. provided they have the drawing of the deeds, or two per cent. if the deeds are drawn by others: Their charge for drawing a leaſe, will be One Pound, and as much for a mortgage; to be paid as the parties ſhall agree.

III. They will have all mortgages recorded, charging the mortgage with the clerk's fee only.

IV. In leting lands they expect no other reward than the profits ariſing from drawing the leaſes; which they will execute at One Pound for the leaſe, and as much for the counterpart.

V. Lands ſold or let, thro' their agency, and which require to be ſurveyed by them, they will engage to perform it in the moſt exact manner, and with all poſſible diſpatch; the expence to be paid either by the grantor or grantee, as ſhall be agreed upon: And in order to prevent any diſputes that may ariſe concerning the expence, they expect to be allowed for the ſurveyor, two chain bearers, a marker and flag carrier, Two Pounds per day, they finding themſelves in every thing.

VI. That any perſon intending to purchaſe, or rent lands, may have the privilege to examine their books and maps, paying Two Shillings for every hour's examination.

VII. Original plans will be returned as ſoon as copies can be taken of them, and the ſubſcribers will do every thing in their power to prevent waſtes on the lands of which they have the ſelling or leting.

LONDON,

Aug. 30. We are assured, that the cause of the very sudden departure of the French Ambassador was his apprehension of a speedy discovery being made by our court, that the French were concerned in setting fire to the Dock-yard at Portsmouth.

Notwithstanding the complaisant letter sent by the French Ambassador to the Secretaries of State, with reasons assigned for his sudden departure without taking leave, we are informed the same is far from being satisfactory, and that there is something mysterious in the affair, which, at present, they cannot discover.

We are assured, that it is in contemplation among the leaders of opposition to bring in a Bill during the next Session of Parliament to raise the freeholders qualifications from 40s. to 20l. a Year.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, August 30.

"According to the last Letters from Vienna, that court expects in a few days the final answer of the court of Petersburgh to the ultimatum sent thither by the former, upon the important subject of a peace between Russia and the Ottoman Porte. Though the terms of this ultimatum are not precisely known. It is thought that the court of Vienna doth not insist upon Crimea being declared as an independent country; but requires that the principalities of Moldavia and Walachia be given to a neutral prince, who may equally espouse the interests of both the imperial courts."

It was reported on Tuesday at the west end of the town, that news was received that the Spanish lines near Gibraltar had lately been reinforced, as were also the garrisons of Malaga, St. Rorch, &c. by detachments from Grenada and other places.—This does not indicate a long continuance of peace between Great-Britain and Spain.

The Industry, Williams, from South-Carolina for Oporto, is lost on the bar of Oporto; six barrels of rice, and forty of cochineal only are saved out of the whole cargo.

Sept. 12. On Friday last Sir Eyre Coote kissed hands on being appointed Colonel of the 27th regiment, late Warburton's.

Great preparations, we hear, are making by the Crosbyan and Harleyan parties, for a general engagement in the plains of Guildhall, on the 30th of this month; and from the apparent animosity on both sides, it is expected the contest will be very hot, and the battle bloody The ground, it is said will be fought inch by inch, as the generals of each army are determined to conquer or die.

Dr. Solander, who lately sailed round the world, is a native of Sweden, and about 40 years of age; Henry Banks, Esq; who accompanied him, is a young gentleman, aged about 26, possessed of a handsome estate in Lincolnshire, a gentleman, likewise of great learning and abilities; five years ago he sailed to the Labrador coast, in North America, in search of plants, and from the same laudable thirst after knowledge, he made the above extraordinary voyage.
